

The Career Readiness Credential (CRC) is connected with the National Career Readiness Certificate, meaning it is portable credential recognized by employers nationwide. The CRC also helps attract businesses to our region by showing them that we have the skills they need to be competitive.

The Right Fit

The Career Readiness Credential is a nationally recognized credential that provides you and employers with proof of your skills. It enables you to stand out above other job applicants, confirms to employers that you have the right skills to meet their workforce needs, and can assist you in identifying career paths that fit your skills and interests.

The Career Readiness Credential uses the nationally recognized WorkKeys® assessment system to measure your abilities in three key areas identified by employers as critical to job success: Reading for Information, Locating Information, and Applied Mathematics.

Each of the three assessments takes less than an hour to complete and gives you another tool to help you on the road to career success.

The Right Plan for You

Don't be the second choice when interviewing for a job. Your Career Readiness Credential gives you the competitive edge over other candidates.

Plus, if there is a particular skill area that you would like to improve, RochesterWorks! offers on-line instruction through the KeyTrain e-learning system. This system is available anywhere there is an internet connection.

Getting started is only a phone call away. Call RochesterWorks! at (585) 258-3500 or log on to www.rochesterworks.org to find out more.
