NOW HIRING

METER READERS – $12/Hour

Rochester, NY and Surrounding Areas

For over 80 years, Heath Consultants Incorporated has provided gas leak surveys, underground utility locating, water leak detection, meter reading, and a number of support services. Working with local gas or water utilities, field technicians determine if there is natural gas or water leaks coming from the lines underground.

Meter Readers will accurately read and record electric, gas and/or water meter data. Work is performed in residential, commercial and/or industrial settings. Each reader drives from one work area to another entering and exiting the vehicle frequently. Data is recorded on a small handheld computer.

Interviews for technicians will be held at:
RochesterWorks! – Waring Road Career Center.
